I've always loved and enjoyed going through all the new updates, from the introduction of clan wars to the latest update of super troops. My favorite part of the game was the community you could find just by logging into the global chat and chatting. You could meet people from all over the world, compare bases, brag about their clans, or just get to know each other. Upgrades and troop training take a long time, so to pass that time I would rise globally, since you could always find someone to talk to. I just got back into the game after a year of break however and was surprised to see that they had REMOVED GLOBAL CHAT. That was literally the biggest reason I played this game instead of other imitations. I really miss it and I know the vast majority of players as well. I know it saves money and work to have it gone, but maybe they should consider having a paid version of the game that includes global chat or even a bc subscription I would literally pay to have it back again. In addition to this failure of a decision, the gameplay is great, well balanced and fun. Every match feels like I'm playing chess and having three stars against a town hall above me makes me feel like an absolute legend. TLDR: Love the game, please bring back the global chat! game is good and I've been playing for years, but have never really paid much attention to the builders base until recently. I was so excited to finally get the battle machine and use it in my attacks until I started noticing the really bad target it has. I tried to use funnel strategies to try to get the battle machine to attack wherever I wanted to go, but he will choose to go to the most useless buildings of all times. I try to funnel him to go directly to the construction hall, all the other buildings are destroyed, the path of course, but he decides to go to the army camp on the other side of the base instead. The most apparent problem it has is that it will hit the guard post office, even if they are out of reach. Regular troops like barbarians and archers must be the ones to reach them while the battle machine does the damage, but it's the other way around. Even if the guard post office is inside the base and the constructors' hall is right in front of the battle machine, it will still go to the troops and die immediately because it is surrounded by literally all defenses, and the attack simply goes downhill from there. A similar thing happens to the archer queen, since she is a hero of range, but it is not as bad as the battle machine. It's practically useless most of the time. If this could be fixed, the attacks would be much more successful. I have this game for many years and I have 5 accounts that love this game! However, I would like to say that I do not like the game as much as I used to. For starters, removing the overall chat made the game seem a bit boring and I don't think I spend as much time with it as it used to. Also as leader of my clan, I find it more difficult to recruit active, English-speaking and clan-friendly members. However, it's not a big deal for me and I understand that there is reasoning behind removing it. Another thing I didn't like is when they got where you can no longer cultivate using your th to get a shield timer and this is one that I don't understand why it was changed. I think the only thing I have problems with is with the clan's new castle troop system with the lab level limit. I know it's to prevent ppl get troops on cc and destroy their opponent blah blah blah. The reason I have a problem with this is because in my 3 year account with like 250 ish trophies I am applauded by people with levels of 2-3 above mine often. If I were pushing trophy I would get it but I'm not so there reasoning for the cc troop lvl cap is silly in my opinion. With all this I can not recommend this game enough is by far the best mobil game out there and super mobile if you read this pls let me give my other accounts max cc troops and bring back global The developer, Supercell, indicated that the privacy practices of the application may include data handling as described below.
