How to turn off audio on sharp aquos

I have the Playbar connected directly to TV using the optical cable provided. I have Verizon Fios and was able to program remote to adjust Playbar volume but no matter what setting I choose on TV, I can not shut the tv speakers off completely. Anyone have any ideas? icon Best answer by controlav Page 29 of the user manual says the speakers will be disabled if Output Select is set to Variable. View original You can turn your TV on and off using your voice and Google Nest or Google Home speaker or display. Note: This feature may not be supported in your region. What you need Chromecast connected to a Google Nest or Home speaker or display. Learn how to link TVs to speakers and displays. TV that supports HDMI-CEC with Consumer Electronics Control (CEC) turned on. Common TVs that support CEC include: AOC, Hitachi, Insignia, ITT, LG, Magnavox, Mitsubishi, Onkyo, Panasonic, Pioneer, Philips, Samsung, Sharp, Sony, Sylvania, Toshiba, and Vizio. CEC is often turned off by default. Typically you can turn on CEC in the TV's settings. The location of CEC settings varies depending on the TV. If you're not sure if your TV supports CEC, or how to turn on CEC, consult the TV manufacturer. Plug Chromecast into a wall outlet or other power source so your Chromecast remains on when you turn off the TV off. If you plug Chromecast into the USB port on your TV, it will turn off along with your TV and won't respond to your voice commands. If Chromecast is connected to a soundbar or AVR, turn on CEC on that device. Chromecast is running on the latest firmware. Check Chromecast firmware versions for more information. TV firmware is current. Turn TV on and off using voice commands To do this: Say this: "Ok Google" or "Hey Google," then: Turn on TV "Turn on, the or my TV," "Turn on, the or my TV," "Power on, the, or my TV," "Power on, the or my TV," Turn off TV "Turn off, the or my TV," "Turn off, the or my TV," "Power off, the or my TV," "Power off, the or my TV," Note: When you turn off a TV, content will stop casting to that TV. If you're playing content on other sources, that content will remain playing. Tips and tricks to turn your TV on and off If you've linked more than one TV to your speaker or display, you'll need to include the TV you're controlling in every voice command. Example: "Hey Google, turn on ." To avoid saying the TV name each time, you can set your media playback device and your commands will always control that device. Fix a problem If voice commands aren't working, especially if they've worked before, try the steps below: Make sure that your Chromecast firmware version is updated. Make sure your TV's firmware is updated by checking the TV user manual. You may also contact your TV manufacturer to verify. Make sure CEC is turned on (for some TVs, adjusting certain settings can turn off CEC automatically). Switch Chromecast to a different HDMI port. Unplug the TV, wait 10 minutes, and plug it back in. Try using a different voice command. If you've turned the TV on or off repeatedly during a short period of time, the voice commands may briefly stop working. Wait about 10 minutes before trying again. Discussion Starter #1 Jan 3, 2008 Like the title says, how can I turn-off the TV's built-in speakers? Maybe I'm blind, but I can't find anything on the subject in the manual or in the audio settings menu. Thanks. Read the part about "fixed" vs. "variable." Also remember that this setting is memorized per input, not globally. Discussion Starter #3 Jan 4, 2008 Thanks a lot, rdclark. That fixed it.
