What was president johnson's plan for reconstruction

The way of dining today has changed significantly from the Lenox, the beautiful crockery company, started his activity of 130 years ago. Mads Ryder, who recently made the helm of the heritage brand in CEO's quality, grew up for dinner every night with his family. "It's totally changed today," he says. "You don't eat in the same way. You don't eat the same food, and you don't eat with the same dishes, forks and knives." Ryder noted, from moving to the United States after the voice upstairs Copenhagen in Denmark, that Americans, unlike their counterparts Europeans, tend to be more distracted and rushed during meals. "What I have experience [in] Europe is that [Europeans] have a much less emotional and more peaceful culinary experience," he says to a €
