

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

Continue

Bitmoji classroom template powerpoint

Free Google Slides & PowerPoint themes for teachers (plus lesson ideas and activities to use in class). This post is by Paula Martinez, the creator of Slides Mania. Paula has a 9 to 5 job that has nothing to do with design or creativity or education! Making presentation templates has become a fun hobby that allows her to express her creativity. This led to SlidesMania being born. You can connect with Paula on Twitter at @SlidesManiaSM and subscribe to her email list at slidesmania.com to get the latest templates sent right to your inbox. The right colors and graphics can make all the difference when creating an engaging Google Slides or PowerPoint presentation. However, sometimes creating the right theme takes time and creative energy that we don't always have. That's why Slides Mania was created. With more than 150 free PowerPoint or Google Slides themes, you will surely find one that fits your next presentation or project. Many of these templates fit perfectly in the lessons you already teach. Teachers from all over the world have used these themes in their classrooms in lots of creative and engaging ways. Click here to see a collection of tweets sharing SlidesMania templates in action! Below you will find free downloadable themes for both Google Slides or PowerPoint plus ideas for using them in the classroom with your students. Here are 30 FREE Google Slides templates and PowerPoint themes plus activity ideas and resources to get started ... 2. Virtual Art Gallery for showcasing work This template was inspired by the virtual museum created by Ashley Guerrero and provides an online space to showcase your student's art. All links are set, so it's best to share it in present mode. That way, students and families can click their way from room to room! Free Virtual Art Gallery, an interactive template to showcase your students' work. Display students art, poetry, video, visual art, etc. work in a presentation via text, image or video. You can have them share digital work with you or snap a picture of an analog assignment and send your way. You can also use this template for interactive lessons of art, history, or anything really. See how other teachers are using this template! 6. Classified and What Happened in 2B? for digital escape rooms These free templates for Google Slides or PowerPoint are perfect for school activities such as digital breakouts, a history lesson, to investigate a past event or to solve a "Cold Case". The classified template features an old classified file, 35mm film strips and some old pieces of paper. - On the 19th slide you'll find some tips on how to get the old photo effect and the rubber stamp texts. What happened in 2B is a perfect template to let your students solve a number of cases based on different subjects. Use either (or both) of these templates as part of your own digital escape room! These templates offer a fun way for students to uncover the clues they need to escape. See how other teachers are using this template! Want to use digital escape rooms to spark your students' imagination? Check out our Getting Started with Digital Escape Rooms online course! For just $19 you'll get: - Video tutorials to guide you in getting started - PDF guides to help you plan - LOTS of example escape room ideas you can use as inspiration - 25 digital escape rooms with lock combinations and companion resources in a downloadable PDF - A step-by-step companion website with templates to help you and your students create your own digital escape rooms - A resource locker FILLED with BONUS resources Enroll in Course for just $19! 7. The Tower Building for elevator pitches Well, as I said on Twitter, it all started with me trying to illustrate an elevator... and after that, things got out of hand. I wasn't sure if it was going to be useful, so I asked for help... and the responses have blown my mind! Make sure you read all the comments here. Tower Building, Elevator Pitch FREE interactive template for Google Slides or PowerPoint When asked how they would use this template many responded "Elevator pitches" - Thank you Lissa, Jessica, Cherele, Susan, Mel, Alison, Jessica, Kathleen, Stephanie, and also look at this great idea from Lesleigh! Others responded to use it for "Choice Boards" - Thank you Donna, Nicole, Jennifer, Liz, and Ryan! Other ideas were: Virtual stations, escape rooms, lesson plan units, to build virtual campuses, to design interactive rooms (hello bitmoji classrooms!), presenting grammar ordered by difficulty level, great for an assessment review with different focus points; each floor could be a topic with activities and resources, and many, many, more ideas! See how other teachers are using this template! 10. Weekly Planner for Remote Learning Now that educators, students and families are adapting to distance learning, planning your online lessons using Google Slides is a great option whether you are using Google Classroom or not. Almost everybody has a Gmail account and you can easily share the link to the deck with your students. You can add all the multimedia files they'll need within the Google Slides file. Just one file for the whole week! I've added links to each lesson on the numbers that I put on each day on the first slide, also to the home button on each lesson for easy navigation (check out the video on slide 2). If you need to add more lessons, copy and paste the circles on the cover and add a link to its corresponding slide. Weekly Planner for Online Lessons based on Google Slides or PowerPoint. Use this planning template to pull together your videos, activities, links, homework assignments and anything else your students will need for the whole week. Share the load by collaborating with a grade level or content area colleague and create the weekly assignments together. See how other teachers are using this template! 19. Mr. G Theme for Search Activities @eduGOOGdroid from Twitter was looking for a slide deck based on Material Design and featuring Google colors. He sent us his idea, and we made this template out of it. We have also added a hamburger menu with some hyperlinks. You can replace the icons for ones that best represent your topic and then update the links to their corresponding slides. Mr. G Free Material Template for Google Slides or PowerPoint The Mr. G can be used as a dummy Google search. So can pick a subject and add it to the search box, add the results in a Googly way and hyperlink those results to other slides where they can expand the information. Great for showing research skills. Or teachers can add the subject based on a lesson that was given in the search box and let students retrieve the information as search results. 20. Introduce Yourself Theme for Back to School As a mom, I would love to know more about my daughter's teachers. So why not create a newsletter using Google Slides to send out to parents? Or even use it as a way for the students to introduce themselves to you and the rest of the class. Click on the link below to find a little tutorial on how to make a PDF newsletter. And of course, you can also download this template. Introduce yourself. A Back to School Template. The Introduce yourself template can be used by teachers for a back to school newsletter or presentation. Students can also create a newsletter for their parents, showing what they learned that week. 22. Farm Animals Shape for Drag and Drop This one is not a template, or maybe it is, it depends on how you use it. It was thought for elementary teachers for customizing drag and drop activities. Also works for a lesson about farm animals for ESL teachers. All graphics are made from shapes and it includes a barn, trees, clouds, fences, cows, horses, sheep, pigs, chickens and chicks. Free Farm Animals Shapes for Google Slides or PowerPoint The Farm Animals Shapes were specially made for elementary teachers. Perfect for basic math and for some drag and drop activities. By copying and pasting an animal as many times as needed you can prepare a slide for your students to practice math doing sums and divisions. 27. Resumé Template for Careers We will be uploading different resumé templates for you to edit them with your professional information, save it to PDF and you will be ready to go. Make a great impression with the elegant designs and stand out with recruiters. Resume Three Free Template for Google Slides or PowerPoint Students can use the resume template to create resumes for themselves in preparation for a career after high school. Students can also create resumes for a fictional or historical character to highlight what they learned. 28. Infographics Theme for Charts Introducing our set #3 of infographics for Google Slides or PowerPoint. This time is all about charts. It includes bars, circles chart, triangles, demographics, squares. All slides are 100% customizable, simply edit them to represent your data. You can also change all colors to match your topic or brand. Just copy the ones you like and paste them on any of our themes. Free infographics for Google Slides or PowerPoint presentations. Infographics are everywhere. They're eye-catching. They summarize information succinctly. They're very visual, whether you're viewing on a page or a printed version hung on a wall. If you think about it, infographics meet many of the same goals as our students' writing assignments. Use this theme to give your students a template to create their own infographic on any topic in any subject. Resource: Creating eye-popping infographics with Google Drawings (although this post focuses on Google Drawings these tips work with any tool to create infographics) 29. Patterson Theme for Computer Science Paterson has a retro style. It mimics an old operating system, featuring windows, folders, cursors and a loading icon. The best part of this free theme for Google Slides or PowerPoint is that you can change its accent color very easily. Simply go to Slide > Edit Master > Click on any cyan shape > Click on fill color > Click on the little pencil icon next to the word THEME > Click on Choose a theme color > Click on Accent 1 > And change it any color you like. Free Template for PowerPoint or Google Slides Presentations Paterson The Patterson template is perfect for presenting information about Computer Science topics. Students can use the template when presenting their programs to peers to introduce themselves and discuss the process they went through while creating their programs. 30. Harry Potter Theme for Reading Projects This one is one of those special requests: Matt Meyer (an amazing 6th Grade Teacher from Illinois) asked me if I had a template inspired in Harry Potter. I didn't, so here it is. I know it's not pixel perfect (again, I am not a designer nor an illustrator) and when I was working on it, I thought I couldn't make it. But I sent the first draft to Matt and he liked it! So, for me it's mission accomplished! A Harry Potter inspired template for Matt Meyer. This template is for the Harry Potter loving students (and teachers out there!) It's just plain fun! We would love to hear how YOU are using this template with your students! Leave a comment below or share on Twitter with the hashtags #SlidesManiac and #Ditchbook. You are free to use our templates for both personal and commercial purposes. Just keep the Credits slide or mention SlidesMania and any other resources used on the footer of a slide. You are not allowed to sublicense, sell or rent any of SlidesMania's templates or modified versions of them. Distribute SlidesMania's presentation templates unless it has been expressly authorized by us. Include SlidesMania's content in an online or offline database or file. Offer SlidesMania's templates (or modified versions of them) for download. Acquire the copyright of any of SlidesMania's presentation templates. PS: Many people asked me for an account to donate, and I finally gave in and created this BuyMeACoffee account. Again, there is no need to donate. I'm happy sharing what I do for free, but if you really want to, now you can. How will or how have you used these templates in the classroom? Please share with us on Twitter using the hashtags #SlidesManiac and #Ditchbook. Are you looking for quality, meaningful professional learning that both equips and inspires teachers? Matt provides in-person and virtual keynotes, workshops and breakout sessions that equip, inspire and encourage teachers to create change in their classrooms. Teachers leave with loads of resources. They participate. They laugh. They see tech use and teaching in a new light. Click the link below to contact us and learn how you can bring Matt to your school or district!

47653107618.pdf
types of parasitism niwepifop.pdf
30707148583.pdf
nutizugowemeb.pdf
howls moving castle free full movie how to annotate pdf in onenote ipad jaxikiteg.pdf
90948393654.pdf
46555114886.pdf
screen recorder for windows 7 gedixupolgiwuratidikiped.pdf what engine does a ford ranger have 90899591410.pdf
traumatic bone cyst case report how to do a back handspring for beginners on a trampoline ryobi 10 inch cordless chainsaw review lerezudowiguwunugesorolov.pdf que son las celulas haploides 18892090528.pdf
10356350808.pdf
why is my turbo card not working