NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION TO VACATE DEFAULT AND DEFAULT JUDGMENT

Carolyn Keene

October 26, 1972

Tracey Donaldson
424 Miner Terrace
Linden, New Jersey 07036

Dear Tracey:

Miss Keene has asked me to write and thank you for your nice letter. She is always pleased to hear from her readers and to know that they enjoy her series.

Enclosed is a biographical sketch of the author and her picture.

Book No. 50, THE DOUBLE JINX MYSTERY, will be published early in January. Superstition, fear, and jinxes abound in this story until Nancy finds out how to change them and solve her mystery.

The beginning of the year Nancy's Cookbook, CLUES TO GOOD COOKING, will be on the market. Be sure to look for it!

Have you read any of the Dana Girls books? Two teen-age sisters solve mysteries while attending school and traveling in this country and abroad.

Sincerely,

Edith Blake

Secretary

Ho Chi Minh (1890-1969):
Major Events in the Life of a Revolutionary Leader

1890 On May 19, HO Chi Minh was born the second son to a family of farmers living in Kim Lien, a small village in Annam (Central Vietnam). He was born NGUYEN Sinh Cung but later adopted the name Ho Chi Minh ("He who enlightens").

When Ho Chi Minh was born in 1890, Vietnam was under French control. The French had split what is known today as Vietnam into three separate states — Cochin China (South Vietnam), Annam (Central Vietnam), and Tonkin (North Vietnam). In 1887, France combined these three states with Cambodia, also under French control, to form a federation of states called Indochina. Later, in 1893, Laos would also be incorporated into Indochina. Of the four states, France directly governed only Cochin China, but it indirectly controlled the other regions of Vietnam through a colonial administration that governed the entirety of Indochina as a single unit. The people living in French Indochina had little influence in the administration of their government and few rights. Vietnam was the jewel of the French colonial crown, providing ample natural resources and abundant cheap labor.

1907 After receiving a primary education at a local school, Ho and his brother traveled to the city of Hue to attend a prestigious Franco-Vietnamese academy. Three years later, Ho left the academy before graduating and worked briefly as a schoolteacher in the town of Phan Thiet.

1911 Ho traveled to Saigon and obtained a job as a cook aboard a French steam ship bound for the French city of Marseille. Although the details of his journey are not well documented, Ho spent the next two years traveling around the world, visiting cities in Europe, Asia, North America, and, according to some accounts, Africa and South America as well. Ho eventually settled in London.

1917 Ho moved to Paris during the height of World War I. He adopted the name NGUYEN Ai Quoc ("Nguyen the Patriot") and became involved in leftist and anti-colonial activism.

1919 Ho worked to found the Association for Annamite Patriots, an organization composed of Vietnamese nationals living in France who opposed the French colonial occupation of Vietnam. He authored a petition demanding the end of the French colonial exploitation of Vietnam, which he attempted to present to the world powers at the Versailles Peace Conference held in the aftermath of World War I. His petition was never officially recognized, but his effort was well known in Vietnam.
