While desertcart makes reasonable efforts to only show products available in your country, some items may be cancelled if they are prohibited for import in Burundi. Any questions not answered will be marked incorrect and points will be deducted. A candidate must contact the Certification Coordinator on their eligibility date for retesting. Step 5: Take phase II (practical exam) Those who pass Phase I will be issued an electronic license to complete the Phase II test. EnCE holders are responsible for knowing their certification expiration date. You must answer all questions to your best ability in order for your submission to be considered for grading. Sixty (60) days are allotted to complete the Phase II exam. Minimum passing score is 85%. If your organization or personal information changes prior to retesting, you will need to submit a new application. EnCE certifications are valid for three (3) years from the date obtained. Those who fail must wait 60 days from the date the test was due before being allowed to retest. Any exams submitted that do not meet the minimum completion requirements, will be marked incomplete and you will be required to wait 60 days then restart the EnCE process over at Phase I. Recognized by both the law enforcement and corporate communities as a symbol of in-depth computer forensics knowledge, EnCE certification illustrates that an investigator is a skilled computer examiner.
