Download Adobe Flash Player for Windows 7/8/10

Flash Player in 10.1.106.16, but malware is added to the software. The reason for this is Adobe now bundled some optional third-party offers with the download of Flash Player. These offers include things like anti-virus protection, toolbars that bind you to your browser and web browser themselves. Refuse these optional offers if you don't want them, or if you want to visit the manufacturer's websites for any additional products you want to download. The boxes are pre-checked, so to avoid accepting a download you don't want, you need to uncheck the boxes next to the optional offers. Revisiting the Adobe Software License Agreement While licensing agreements can be heavy for technical language and boring reading if you are not a software guru, it is a good idea to take some time to review the Adobe Software License Agreement before proceeding to the last stage. This is in the Terms and Conditions above the Install Now icon. If the existing antivirus protection does not allow download, go to settings and click the icon to allow download. Click Install Now Click on the large yellow icon Install Now on the lower right edge of the screen. Some computers will run automatically from there, but if the settings do not allow it, follow the instructions To complete the installation process. Others from questions.net from questions.net
